6th Annual Care Of The Sick Newborn Conference

The 6th Annual Care of the Sick Newborn Conference is a four-day conference for NICU healthcare professionals. Covering neonatal nutrition, development, respiratory care, and hot topics through educational presentations and workshops, this year’s conference combines basic physiology, evidence-based practice, and the most recent research findings. Attendees have the option of a variety of certifications on the first day of the conference: the S.T.A.B.L.E. Learner Course, PICC Line Certification Course, and the Neonatal Resuscitation Program (NRP) Instructor Course, which is available in both English and Spanish.

You’re Invited!

This conference is designed for neonatal nurses, respiratory therapists, A.R.N.P.s, physician assistants, and other healthcare professionals who care for newborns. It is designed for professionals of all experience levels – from entry-level to highly experienced. The conference can be customized by attendees to best serve their professional goals and certification requirements.

Credit Information

The Jackson Health System Education and Development Department is accredited as a provider of continuing nursing, respiratory, and physical therapy education. A maximum of 28 contact hours will be granted for four-day attendance (a total of seven contact hours per day).
